ANTI-MONEY LAUNDERING & COUNTER-TERRORISM FINANCING ACT 2006

The Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML Act) and other applicable anti-money laundering and counter terrorism laws, regulations, rules and policies which apply to the Responsible Entity (AML Requirements), regulate financial services and transactions in a way that is designed to detect and prevent money laundering and terrorism financing. The AML Act is enforced by the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC). In order to comply with the AML Requirements, the Responsible Entity is required to, amongst other things:

- verify your identity and source of your application monies before providing services to you, and to re-identify you if we consider it necessary to do so; and
- where you supply documentation relating to the verification of your identity, keep a record of this documentation for 7 years.

The Responsible Entity and the Administrator as its agent (collectively the Entities) reserve the right to request such information as is necessary to verify your identity and the source of the payment. In the event of delay or failure by you to produce this information, the Entities may refuse to accept an application and the application monies relating to such application or may suspend the payment of withdrawal proceeds if necessary to comply with AML Requirements applicable to them. Neither the Entities nor their delegates shall be liable to you for any loss suffered by you because of the rejection or delay of any subscription or payment of withdrawal proceeds.

The Entities have implemented several measures and controls to ensure they comply with their obligations under the AML Requirements, including carefully identifying and monitoring investors. Because of the implementation of these measures and controls:

- transactions may be delayed, blocked, frozen or refused where an Entity has reasonable grounds to believe that the transaction breaches the law or sanctions of Australia or any other country, including the AML Requirements;
- where transactions are delayed, blocked, frozen or refused the Entities are not liable for any loss you suffer (including consequential loss) caused by reason of any action taken or not taken by them as contemplated above, or because of their compliance with the AML Requirements as they apply to the Fund; and
- the Responsible Entity or the Administrator may from time to time require additional information from you to assist it in this process.

The Entities have certain reporting obligations under the AML Requirements and are prevented from informing you that any such reporting has taken place. Where required by law, an entity may disclose the information gathered to regulatory or law enforcement agencies, including AUSTRAC. The Entities are not liable for any loss you may suffer because of their compliance with the AML Requirements.

MAKING A WITHDRAWAL

You may redeem some or all of your units by either mailing, emailing or faxing a completed withdrawal form which can be downloaded from our website, or by sending us your written instructions. The minimum withdrawal amount is $5,000 or your investment balance if it is less than $20,000.

Requests to withdraw must be signed by the appropriate authorised signatory(ies). If we cannot satisfactorily identify you as the redeeming investor, we may either reject and refuse to process, or delay your withdrawal until we can confirm that the withdrawal instruction we have received is valid. Your instruction will be treated as not being received until we have been able to confirm that it is valid.

Please ensure that withdrawal requests are either sent to Mainstream at GPO Box 4968, Sydney NSW 2000 or faxed to Mainstream at +61 2 9251 3525 or emailed to Mainstream at registry@mainstreamgroup.com.

We accept no responsibility for withdrawal requests that have been sent to an incorrect address or fax number. You are responsible for ensuring that you use the correct contact details and accept that if you use incorrect address details your withdrawal request may be delayed or not processed.

If you are an indirect investor, please follow the instructions of the IPDS operator on how to make a withdrawal from the Fund.

INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED VIA EMAIL AND FACSIMILE

By instructing Mainstream by email or fax you acknowledge that the Entities are entitled to rely on, and you will be liable for, any instruction received by email or fax which appears to be duly authorised by you. It is expected that this service will allow you to manage your investment more efficiently, though by transacting in this way you acknowledge that there is an increased risk of fraud and you release us from, and agree to reimburse us for, any losses and liabilities arising from the payment or action taken by us (acting reasonably) provided that the Entities have acted without fraud or negligence.

If you are an indirect investor, please contact your master trust or wrap account operator for information regarding how to transact.

TRANSFERRING UNITS

You can transfer your units to a third party by completing a standard transfer form which can be obtained from your financial adviser or by calling Mainstream on 1300 133 451 and sending it to Mainstream, together with an application form and AML/CTF identification form and documents completed and signed by the party to whom you are transferring units. We require original copies of standard transfer forms to be mailed to us. We reserve the right to refuse a request to transfer units.

As a transfer of units involves a disposal of units it may have tax implications. There may also be stamp duty payable. You should obtain tax and stamp duty advice before requesting a transfer.

If you are an indirect investor, please contact your IPDS operator if you wish to transfer your units.

RESTRICTIONS ON WITHDRAWING YOUR INVESTMENT

There may be circumstances when your ability to withdraw from the Fund is restricted. Please read the following further information on restrictions on withdrawals in conjunction with reading the PDS.

Withdrawals are normally processed within seven business days of receiving a valid withdrawal request however, we do not guarantee this timeframe and we may take significantly longer to pay withdrawals.

Withdrawals may also be delayed in the following circumstances:

- under the Fund's constitution, we have 21 days to pay withdrawals (if the Fund is liquid as defined in the Corporations Act);
- under the Fund's constitution, we can suspend withdrawals for up to 120 days;
- if the Fund becomes illiquid, we are not required to pay withdrawals unless we offer to do so.

If we did not receive all required identity verification documents (as outlined in the relevant application form) at the time of investment or your withdrawal request is incomplete, we may not process your withdrawal request until these documents or further requirements are received.

No withdrawals, or payment of withdrawal proceeds shall be permitted where the issue or redemption of Units is suspended. Withdrawals may be suspended for up to 120 days including where:

- it is impracticable for us, or we are unable, to calculate the Net Asset Value of the Fund (and hence unit prices) for example, because of financial market disruptions or closures;
- where our investments suspend, delay or restrict the redemption, issue or payment of redemption proceeds (as applicable), or are unable to provide a withdrawal price;
- we reasonably estimate that we must sell 5% or more (by value) of all the Fund's assets to meet withdrawals;
- the payment of withdrawal proceeds involves realising a significant portion of the Fund's assets which would, in our opinion, result in remaining unit holders bearing a disproportionate amount of capital gains tax or expenses, or suffering any other disadvantage or decrease in the value of their units;
- where we reasonably consider it to be in the interests of unit holders; or
- it is otherwise legally permitted.

IF THE FUND BECOMES ILLIQUID

If the Fund is not liquid (as defined in the Corporations Act) unitholders would only be able to withdraw from the Fund if we made an offer of withdrawal to unitholders. If we do make such an offer, unitholders may only be able to withdraw part of their investment. There is no obligation for us to make such an offer.

Under the Corporations Act, the Fund is regarded as liquid if liquid assets account for at least 80% of the value of the assets of the Fund. Liquid assets generally include money in an account or on deposit with a bank, bank-accepted bills, marketable securities and property of the kind prescribed under the Corporations Act.

VALUATIONS

Units will typically be priced each business day by the Responsible Entity except where the calculation of the Net Asset Value of the Fund is suspended for reasons such as where the Fund's investments cannot in the opinion of the Responsible Entity be appropriately valued or disposed of including where:

- there have been disruptions, suspensions or closures to financial markets; or
- for any other reason the value of the Fund's assets or liabilities cannot in the opinion of the Responsible Entity be reasonably or fairly ascertained.

You will find the latest unit price each business day at www.microequities.com.au/valueincomefund

4. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT RISKS

This should be read in conjunction with Section 4 of the PDS 'Risks of managed investment schemes'.

Counterparty default risk – This is also sometimes referred to as 'credit risk'. Counterparty risk is the risk of loss due to a counterparty to a contract (such as a physical security trade) failing to perform its contractual obligations either in whole or in part.

Cyber risk – There is a risk of fraud, data loss, business disruption or damage to the information of the Fund or to investors' personal information as a result of a threat or failure to protect the information or personal data stored within the information technology systems and networks of the Responsible Entity and its agents.

Fund risk – Risks particular to the Fund include the risk that the Fund could be terminated, the fees and expenses could change, the Responsible Entity could be replaced as responsible entity of the Fund and the Investment Manager could be replaced as investment manager. There is also a risk that investing in the Fund may give different results from investing individually because of income or capital gains accrued in the Fund at the time of investing and the consequences of investment and withdrawal by other investors. You could receive back less than you invested and there is no guarantee that you will receive any capital or income. The Responsible Entity aims to keep Fund risk to a minimum by monitoring compliance with the risk constraints and how the various risks may impact on the Fund and by acting in the unit holders' best interest as a whole.

Interest rate risk – Changes in interest rates can have a positive or negative impact directly or indirectly on investment values or returns.

Low cash position – If the Fund has a low cash balance, this could hamper or delay the ability of the Fund to make payments to investors.

Regulatory risk – The risk that a change in government policies (including taxation), laws and regulations may adversely affect the value of an investment in the Fund or its underlying assets.

Service provider risk – The risk that third party service providers engaged by the Responsible Entity for the Fund to provide certain services to the Fund including for example, administration, custody and valuation services, do not properly perform their obligations and duties and cause harm to the Fund.

Significant redemptions risk – A risk exists that a significant number of requests for redemption of Units in the Fund will be received. In such an event, it may not be possible to liquidate some of the Fund's investments at the time that such redemptions are requested, or it may be possible to do so only at prices which do not reflect the true value of such investments, resulting in an adverse effect on the return to Investors. The Responsible Entity has a discretion to suspend redemptions in these circumstances. In addition, if the Responsible Entity receives redemption requests for:

- more than 5% of units on issue on any day; or
- more than 10% of units on issue over any five consecutive business days, it may be necessary to delay the redemption of Units to which the requests relate, and/or reduce the number of Units that an Investor is entitled to redeem.

Volatility risk – Volatility in the prices of the underlying assets of the Fund can result in fluctuations in the unit price and/or amounts distributed to unitholders.

5. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT HOW WE INVEST YOUR MONEY

This should be read in conjunction with Section 5 'How we invest your money' of the PDS.

Small companies are generally defined as companies whose market capitalisation (market value) is outside the ASX 200 index. Whilst individually the market value of each of these companies is relatively small, collectively they make up a large component of the total exchange's participants.

Due to their relatively small market capitalisation, investment banks and stock brokers do not allocate the necessary resources to analyse or provide research coverage on these companies. This lack of professional investor coverage can provide investment opportunities in highly undervalued securities that may have been overlooked. Many small companies have higher growth rates than larger companies. Often, the reason for a superior growth rate will be due to a company specific quality such as a new product or service, expansion into new markets, increased market size or other company specific events that are unrelated to the economic cycle. These company specific events can provide some companies with growth in challenging economic conditions.

The investment universe of these small companies may offer many anomalous valuations due to a lack of institutional and professional investor following. Capturing these anomalies in valuation is an integral part of the Fund.

Small companies, in many cases, are not start ups but rather companies with a track record. These companies can eventually become mid and large cap companies. These companies can, in some cases, have highly recognisable brand names and products and can be market leaders in their field.

There are many reasons why companies are small including:

- they operate in a relatively small domestic market for their product and have not entered the exporting arena;
- they might be largely family dominated companies;
- they might have previously been part of a larger company; or
- their pace of growth might be managed (rapid growth can be harder to manage).

In many cases, they might have been even smaller in size a few years ago and have grown rapidly but still remain outside the ASX 200 Index (i.e. they were A$20 million market cap 3 years ago and now they are A$60 million).

THE INVESTMENT MANAGER'S INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

VALUE

Value is at the heart of the Investment Manager's investment philosophy. The Investment Manager investigates and researches the small company asset class because generally these companies present the most compelling value opportunities. Value investing is the buying of securities at significantly less than their intrinsic value.

The Investment Manager's investment approach aims to identify those securities that are trading below their intrinsic value while offering exposure to growth opportunities. Securities may trade below or above their intrinsic value due to a multitude of factors including but not limited to:

- economic outlook;
- general market sentiment; company size;
- lack of analysis; or
- outside of major benchmark indices.

Investments should generally be made with an intended time horizon of at least 5 years in companies selected for investment, as prices are likely to revert to their intrinsic value through the course of an investment cycle.

INCOME

For some investors, a consistent steady income stream is more important than capital growth via the retention and reinvestment of earnings. Many companies pay both an interim and final dividend. In many cases this dividend stream is fully or partially franked at the company tax rate. The Fund will focus on identifying those companies that have a stable and consistent history of dividend payment. The companies should possess a robust business model that provides confidence in the sustainability of dividend income flow.

GROWTH

As important as value is, growth is a vital driver of capital returns. Without earnings growth, value is undermined. Therefore not only are undervalued companies sought, but also companies that are likely to grow and grow at faster rates than the rest of the market. The small companies universe presents a wide array of growth companies some of which, because of their relatively smaller size, possess a more attractive growth profile.

INVESTMENT IN PROFITABLE COMPANIES

The Investment Manager does not speculate on loss making businesses. In order to value a business (company), the business needs to be generating positive earnings. Microequities does not research loss making businesses, and the Fund does not invest in companies that do not have a historically positive EBITDA (Earnings Before Net Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortisation).

LONG TERM INVESTMENT HORIZON

Good things take time. The Investment Manager's experience has been that it takes time for the market to recognise value. The time horizon of investment is therefore a medium to long term one. The Fund sees equity investments as a de facto business partnership. The Fund does not trade in and out of positions; it looks for long term superior gains by way of long term investments. The Investment Manager's experience is that this philosophy provides superior long term returns. Microequities suggest that investors adopt a minimum 5 year time horizon for their investment in this Fund. The Fund aims to provide semi-annual income distribution and capital growth.

THE INVESTMENT MANAGER' INVESTMENT APPROACH

PROFILE OF COMPANIES THE FUND WILL INVEST IN

There is information asymmetry in the market for securities of small companies. Information asymmetry arises when one party has more or better quality information than the other. Stockbroking firms and investment banks generally produce research material for their clients in order to generate commissions from trading volume. They tend to cover mainly the largest 200 stocks listed on the exchange as these tend to have the largest daily volume of trading activity. By way of example, there are approximately 2,200 companies listed on the ASX, and many of these would not have been considered for research by brokers or other research firms. Hence, there may exist opportunities to profit from intrinsically undervalued and unresearched companies.

Additionally, many index fund managers tend to structure their portfolios to track or follow specific indices. This can suggest that the index fund managers are investing in both well performing companies and poor performing companies simply to imitate the particular index.

The Investment Manager is focused on growing, profitable companies with a performance track record and an undervalued share price. The Investment Manager uses a bottom-up approach to investing. Fundamental analysis of companies is undertaken using various models and key indicators to value companies before consideration of inclusion for investment by the Fund.

The Investment Manager conducts research that includes information gathering from customers, suppliers and competitors. As part of the investment process, it conducts face to face meetings with the company's senior management to gain valuable insights into the operations of the company's business units, strategy, and plans. The Investment Manager will only invest the Fund in businesses that it understands and that have a historical track record of earnings.

The list below is a sample and is in no way exhaustive of some of the factors that may be looked at and taken into consideration when considering an investment by the Fund.

As each company is unique, not all factors below will be suitable to be taken into consideration for the purposes of a valuation model of the company:

- Companies with a well established business model
- Companies generally should have at least 2 years or longer of historical EBITDA profitability
- Companies with low manageable debt or no debt are preferred

- High cash flow generating businesses
- Companies with high earnings visibility and disclosure
- Companies with a predictable future earnings stream
- Companies in a growing sector
- Companies paying consistent dividends
- Companies that have a growth catalyst division, product or service
- Companies with a strong competitive advantage or brand name
- Companies with stable management and a track record of delivering value to shareholders
- Companies where management has a significant stake
- Companies with a reputable board of directors

The approach to investment necessitates a medium to long term perspective, and only under such an investment time horizon do investors capture superior capital gain. The investment performance of companies invested in is regularly reviewed. The Investment Manager is in close contact with senior executives and management of those companies and their investment case is re-examined. Companies that have not yet met the Investment Manager's investment criteria are also monitored. The world is a dynamic place and investment cases do change.

LABOUR, ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL AND ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

The Investment Manager regards the subject of ethical investing as highly complex and understands there are often contradictions and conflicting beliefs that are a constant element of the capitalist system. The Investment Manager is unable to assess the individual beliefs and values of each investor in the Fund. Investment decisions are primarily based on economic factors. The Investment Manager does not apply a specific methodology to measure individual companies with respect to labour standards, environmental, social or ethical considerations when making investment decisions. However, to the extent that such issues may financially affect an investment, this would be taken into account.

This should be read in conjunction with Section 6 'Fees and costs' in the PDS.

FEES AND OTHER COSTS

This table shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the Fund's assets as a whole. Taxes are set out in section 7 'Additional information about how managed investment schemes are taxed'. You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

As the Fund is newly established, this figure reflects the Responsible Entity's reasonable estimate at the date of this PDS of those fees and costs that will apply for the current financial year (adjusted to reflect a 12 month period).
- ⁵ The reasonable estimate of the performance fee has been determined using an estimation methodology that the Responsible Entity considers appropriately represents what the performance fees will be for the current financial year. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance and the Fund's actual performance fee will be based on the Fund's performance over the relevant period. For more information, please refer to 'Performance fee' below.
- ⁶ Please refer to 'Additional explanation of fees and costs' and 'Other payments' for more information on costs that may be payable.

ADDITIONAL EXPLANATION OF FEES AND COSTS

MANAGEMENT COSTS

The management costs for the Fund (fees and costs incurred by you) are comprised of the management fee and performance fees (if payable). They do not include the transactional and operational costs (i.e. buy/sell spreads) of the Fund or the transactional and operational costs of underlying assets (as set out below). Management costs are payable from the Fund's assets and are not paid directly from your account.

MANAGEMENT FEE

The management fee is calculated daily as a percentage of the net asset value of the Fund and payable monthly in arrears from the Fund's assets within 3 business days of the end of each month. From the management fee we pay all investment manager fees (including the fees of the Investment Manager), all operating expenses of the Fund including responsible entity fee, custody fees, audit fees, accounting fees, legal and regulatory fees and all other normal costs (other than transaction costs).

INDIRECT COSTS

There are no indirect costs for the Fund.

RECOVERABLE EXPENSES

Normal operating expenses

We currently pay the normal operating expenses of the Fund (e.g. custody fees, audit fees, accounting fees, legal and regulatory fees) from the management fee and will not, without notice, recover these from the Fund.

Abnormal expenses

We are also entitled to be reimbursed from the Fund for abnormal expenses, such as the cost of unitholder meetings, defending legal proceedings, special valuation of assets and the costs of terminating the Fund. These abnormal expenses are not generally incurred during the day-to-day operation of the Fund and are not necessarily incurred in any year. If they arise, we may deduct these expenses from the Fund.

PERFORMANCE FEE

The performance fee is calculated and accrued daily as 20.5% (inclusive of GST and net of any applicable reduced input tax credits) of the excess return of the units in the Fund above the Performance Fee Benchmark. The performance fee is payable following the end of each calendar quarter. No performance fee will be payable until any aggregate underperformance from prior periods has been recovered.

The Performance Fee Benchmark is the daily return of the S&P/ASX Emerging Companies Accumulation Index (Performance Fee Benchmark).

Each day, the performance fee is calculated. The performance fee is an amount equal to 20.5% (inclusive of GST and net of any applicable reduced input tax credits) of the amount by which the return of the units in the Fund outperformed (or underperformed) the Performance Fee Benchmark for the period from the start of the calendar quarter to the day the performance fee is calculated. Subject to the following paragraphs, if the Fund outperformed the Performance Fee Benchmark, the performance fee will be a positive amount, and the performance fee amount to be accrued and taken into account in the unit price will equal to that positive amount. If the Fund underperformed the Performance Fee Benchmark, then the performance fee will be a negative amount and will not be accrued and taken into account in the unit price.

If the performance fee calculated at the end of each quarter is positive, then the performance fee less any performance fee amount relating to any underperformance carried forward from prior periods (Net Performance Fee), will be paid provided the Net Performance Fee is a positive amount. No amount will be paid if the Net Performance Fee is negative, and this Net Performance Fee will be carried forward to the next quarter, and included in the performance fee calculation carried out at the end of the next quarter.

If the performance fee calculated at the end of each quarter is negative, that amount in addition to any performance fee amount relating to any underperformance carried forward from prior periods will be carried forward to the next quarter, and included in the performance fee calculation carried out at the end of the next quarter.

If, on any particular day in a quarter:

- the amount of the accrued performance fee as at that day is a positive amount (X); and
- the aggregate accrued performance fee in relation to previous periods (excluding the then current quarter), is a negative amount (Y); and
- X minus Y is a negative amount, then the performance fee as at that particular day will be a negative amount, and will not be accrued and taken into account in the unit price as at that particular day.

The worked example of the performance fee below is shown only for the purpose of illustrating how the performance fee may be calculated and assumes there are no applications, redemptions or distributions made on that day.

It is also important to note the example is not an indication of the expected or future performance of the Fund, and that actual performance may differ materially from that used in the following worked example.

FEE COMPONENTS	REFERENCE	EXAMPLE DAY 87
Performance fee percentage	(A)	20.5%
Unit Value at start of calendar quarter	(B)	$1.00
Unit Value (after management fee & before performance fee) on Day 87	(C)	$1.03
Unit Value increase from start of calendar quarter to Day 87	(D) = (C) – (B)	$0.03
Unit Return from start of calendar quarter to Day 87	(E) = (D)/(B)	3.00%
Benchmark Return from start of calendar quarter to Day 87	(F)	2.00%
Outperformance over Benchmark	(G) = (E) – (F)	1.00%
Number of units in issues on Day 87	(H)	5,000,000
Performance fee calculated on Day 87	(J) = (A) * (B) * (G) * (H)	$10,250
Performance fee amount relating to underperformance carried forward from previous period	(K)	$6,000
Net performance fee accrual*	(M) = (J) – (K)	$4,250

*If the net performance fee accrual was positive on the last day of the performance period, a performance fee would be payable equal to the net performance fee accrual (includes the net effect of GST and RITC). If the net performance fee accrual was negative on the last day of the performance period, the net performance fee accrual would be carried forward to the next quarter.

TRANSACTION COSTS

Transaction costs are costs associated with the buying and selling of the Fund's assets and are charged directly to the Fund. These costs include brokerage, settlement costs, clearing costs, stamp duty, GST and other taxes and include the transactional costs incurred by the underlying assets.

The Responsible Entity reasonably estimates the transaction costs that will apply for the current financial year will be 0.99% p.a. of the net asset value of the Fund (adjusted to reflect a 12 month period).

Transaction costs are not included in the 'Management costs'. Instead they are recovered from the assets of the Fund as and when they are incurred and therefore (where not otherwise recovered through the buy/sell spread) are an additional cost to you.

We estimate that the net transaction costs of the Fund (representing the total transaction costs minus the total amount recovered through the buy/sell spread of +0.50%/-0.50%) is approximately 0.49% p.a. of the net asset value of the Fund. The net transactional and operational costs are borne by the Fund and are reflected in the unit price of the Fund.

Transactional and operational costs estimate	Estimated recovery through buy/sell spread	Net transactional and operational costs estimate
0.99%	0.50%	0.49%

The buy/sell spread is an adjustment to the unit price to cover those transaction costs associated with buying and selling the Fund's assets when investors enter or exit the Fund.

BUY/SELL SPREAD

The buy/sell spread is a type of transaction cost that may include brokerage, stamp duty, underlying security buy/sell spreads and other government taxes or charges. The purpose of the buy/sell spread is to ensure that investors transacting in the Fund's units at a particular time contribute to the Fund's costs of buying and selling the Fund's assets as a consequence of their transaction.

The buy/sell spread is an additional cost incurred by you when you invest in or withdraw from the Fund. The buy/sell spread is not a fee paid to us but is paid to the Fund to offset the transaction costs incurred.

The buy/sell spread may vary from time to time to reflect changes in the transaction costs incurred, or likely to be incurred. The buy/sell spread for the Fund is currently +0.50%/-0.50% when you make an application for, or a withdrawal of units in the Fund. We have discretion to waive or reduce the transaction costs on investments or withdrawals where no or reduced costs are incurred. If we do vary the buy/sell spread, we will not provide prior notice unless the change is material. The updated information will be posted on our website www.microequities.com.au/valueincomefund, and we will advise you in the next regular communication after the change.

The buy/sell spread will not apply to units you receive from distributions that are reinvested or to certain other transactions (including transfers).

Worked dollar example

The current buy spread on an investment in the Fund is +0.50%/-0.50%. Therefore, the cost of an investment of $50,000 into the Fund would be $250 and the cost on a withdrawal of $50,000 from the Fund would be $250.

FEE MAXIMUM AND CHANGES TO FEES

We are entitled under the Constitution of the Fund to charge a contribution fee and withdrawal fee each of 5% of the application/withdrawal amount, a management fee of 3% per annum of the assets of the units of the Fund and a performance fee of 20.5% of the Fund's daily return (after management fees and expenses but before performance fees) above the Performance Fee Benchmark (provided all underperformance below the Performance Fee Benchmark carried forward from prior periods, has been recouped). We have elected to limit our management fee to 1.30% and in the case of the contribution fee and withdrawal fee, waived these fees altogether.

We may elect to change the fees and costs outlined in this section (e.g. due to changes in economic conditions and size of the Fund). We will provide you at least 30 days written notice of any changes; except for changes to the buy/sell spread (refer to the buy/sell spread section above).

INDIRECT INVESTORS

If you invest in the Fund through a master trust or wrap account, the fees and costs applicable to the master trust or wrap account (and set out in the master trust or wrap account offer document or client agreement) are payable in addition to the fees and costs stated in the PDS.

FUND MANAGER AND PLATFORM ACCESS PAYMENTS

There are circumstances when we may, subject to the law, pay a platform to make the Funds available on their investment menu. There are two types of payment that can be made:

- product access payments where a flat dollar amount per annum is paid to the platform provider for administrative and investment related services; and
- fund manager payments where a volume based shelf-space fee based on past, current or projected volumes invested is paid to the platform provider.

If you invest in the Fund via a platform these payments may be rebated to you or may be retained (in full or in part) by the platform operator.

If we do pay fees, we will pay them from our own resources so that they are not an additional cost to the Fund or to you.

DIFFERENTIAL FEES

We may charge fees on a different basis to a wholesale client (as defined under the Corporations Act) based on individual negotiation between us and that wholesale client.

We may, in certain circumstances determined by us, as permitted under law, negotiate special arrangements concerning fees (including fee reductions and rebates) with other investors.

Through the operation of rebates which are paid from the fees that we receive, we may effectively charge net fees on a different basis to:

- a) a wholesale client (as defined under the Corporations Act) based on individual negotiation between us and that wholesale client; and/or
- b) other investors, where in special circumstances determined by us and where we are permitted under the law to charge net fees on a different basis to other investors.

All of the above arrangements will involve a rebate of the investment management fees that we earn and hence:

- the fees that are charged to all investors in the Fund is identical and
- any rebates that we pay to wholesale investors, other investors are not an additional cost to the Fund or to you.

Relevant investors should contact Microequities in relation to negotiating fees. See the cover of the PDS for the contact details for Microequities.

7. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT HOW MANAGED INVESTMENT SCHEMES ARE TAXED

This should be read in conjunction with Section 7 of the PDS 'How managed investment schemes are taxed'.

The information contained in the following summary is intended to be of a general nature only and should serve only as a guide to the tax considerations that may arise. The summary applies only to Australian resident investors. Different tax considerations arise for non-resident investors.

You should seek independent professional tax advice that takes account of your particular circumstances before investing in the Fund.

The information in this AIB is based upon Australian income tax law contained in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 and the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 as at the date of this PDS. The Australian income tax law is subject to change at any time and any such changes could adversely affect the information provided herein.

TAXATION OF THE FUND

The Fund should not be subject to Australian income tax on the basis that:

- the unitholders will be presently entitled to the distributable income of the Fund and are not expected to be under any legal disability; and
- the Fund is not expected to be a public trading trust (i.e. a trust that is taxed as a company)

Where the Fund is in a tax loss position in a particular year, the loss is retained in the Fund and is not distributable to the unitholders. The loss can be carried forward by the Fund and used to offset taxable income in a future year (subject to satisfaction of certain loss integrity tests).

The Fund intends to qualify as a 'managed investment trust' for Australian tax purposes. If the Fund so qualifies, it will be eligible to make a capital account election for the purposes of the managed investment trust regime under Australian income tax law. This election would mean gains and losses on the disposal of certain assets (such as shares in companies and units in unit trusts, rights and options over such assets but excluding assets that are derivatives, foreign exchange or any other investments that are subject to the 'financial arrangement provisions') by the Fund will be subject to capital gains tax treatment.

DISTRIBUTIONS

As it is the Fund's intention to distribute all income of the Fund to investors during each financial year, the Fund should not be subject to any Australian income tax. Investors will be entitled to receive distributions from the Fund provided the income referable to their Units is greater than nil. Proceeds from withdrawals may also contain a component of taxable income as determined by the Responsible Entity.

The taxable components of distributions (whether reinvested back into the Fund or not) or from redemption proceeds should be taxable in the hands of the investors for the financial year to which the distributions relate. That is, investors will include their share of the net (i.e. taxable) income of the Fund in their assessable income for that year.

To the extent that an investor's share of the income of the Fund is attributable to a capital gain made by the Fund, the investor will be treated as having made a capital gain equal to that amount. Where such an amount is a discounted capital gain, the investor is treated as making a discount capital gain equal to twice the amount that is attributable to the discounted capital gain made by the Fund. Certain investors may be entitled to apply the relevant capital gains tax discount percentage to the discount capital gain to the extent to which it is included in a net capital gain made for the income year.

Any foreign taxes paid by the Fund may be available to be passed on to investors. Investors may generally be able to claim a foreign income tax offset for these amounts.

Any franking credits derived by the Fund may also generally be available to be distributed to investors in the Fund. The eligibility of the Fund to distribute franking credits is subject to certain conditions such as the holding period rule. An investor's individual circumstances will also be relevant in determining whether an entitlement to franking credits exists.

Where the cash distribution that an investor receives or reinvests exceeds their share of the net income of the Fund, the excess may not be included in their assessable income in the income year received. The non-assessable cash distribution component is commonly referred to as a tax deferred distribution, unless it relates to a discount capital gain that has been made by the Fund.

A tax deferred distribution received will result in a reduction in the cost base of Units. The investor will make a capital gain equal to the amount by which the tax deferred distributions received for an income year exceed the investor's remaining cost base in those units.

Investors will be provided with a distribution and taxation statement each year outlining the various components of the distribution. For example the components of the distribution may include dividends, trading or capital gains, tax deferred income, any taxes withheld or franking credits attached.

Investors who hold their Units on capital account may also crystallise a capital gain or capital loss on disposal or redemption of their Units in the Fund. Any capital gains tax liability that arises may be reduced by the applicable capital gains tax discount where the Units disposed of or redeemed have been held for more than 12 months. The capital gains tax discount varies depending on whether the investor is an individual, trust or complying superannuation fund. Investors should seek their own taxation advice in relation to the capital gains implications that arise on disposal or redemption of Units.

For investors residing in an offshore jurisdiction, withholding tax may be withheld on distributions or withdrawal proceeds carrying a taxable component. Investors residing in an offshore jurisdiction should seek their own tax advice.

AMIT

The Attribution Managed Investment Trust (AMIT) regime has been introduced. An AMIT, in broad terms, is a MIT whose unitholders have clearly defined interests in relation to the income and capital of the fund and the trustee or responsible entity of the MIT has made an irrevocable election to apply the regime.

The regime can apply to a fund that has elected into the AMIT regime. The Responsible Entity will consider whether to make the election for the Fund.

The AMIT rules contain a number of provisions that will impact on the taxation treatment of the Fund. The key features of the AMIT regime are:

- an attribution model for determining member tax liabilities, which also allows amounts to retain their tax character as they flow through a MIT to its unitholders;
- the ability to carry forward understatements and overstatements of taxable income, instead of re-issuing investor statements;
- deemed fixed trust treatment under the income tax law;
- upwards cost base adjustments to units to address double taxation; and
- legislative certainty about the treatment of tax deferred distributions.

Reforms to the taxation of trusts are generally ongoing. Investors should seek their own advice and monitor the progress of announcements and proposed legislative changes on the potential impact.

GOODS AND SERVICES TAX (GST)

GST will not be imposed on the application for, or withdrawal of Units in the Fund. However, the services for which any fees are payable under the "Fees and other costs" section of this PDS, are likely to be subject to GST. The Fund is unlikely to be entitled to claim a full input tax credit for any GST paid on fees and other costs payable by it. The Fund may be entitled to claim a reduced input tax credit (RITC) of the GST payable in respect of certain expenses.

Any denial of input tax credit will be an additional cost to the Fund, which may affect the net income of the Fund and the distributions (if any) made by the Fund to investors. Adviser fees are not payable directly by the Fund and as such the Fund is not entitled to claim a RITC.

TAX FILE NUMBER (TFN) OR AUSTRALIAN BUSINESS NUMBER (ABN)

Investors who have not provided a TFN, ABN or alternatively provided exemption details may have tax deducted from their distributions at the highest marginal tax rate plus the Medicare Levy (currently 47.0% inclusive of the Medicare Levy).

COMMON REPORTING STANDARD

The Australian government has implemented the OECD Common Reporting Standards Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information (CRS) from 1 July 2017. CRS, like the FATCA regime, requires banks and other financial institutions to collect and report to the ATO.

CRS requires certain financial institutions to report information regarding certain accounts to their local tax authority and follow related due diligence procedures. The Fund is expected to be a 'Financial Institution' under the CRS and intends to comply with its CRS obligations by obtaining and reporting information on relevant accounts (which may include your units in the Fund) to ATO. In order for the Fund to comply with its obligations, we will request that you provide certain information and certifications to us for the Fund's compliance with the CRS. We will determine whether the Fund is required to report your details to the ATO based on our assessment of the relevant information received. The ATO may provide this information to other jurisdictions that have signed the "CRS Competent Authority Agreement", the multilateral framework agreement that provides the mechanism to facilitate the automatic exchange of information in accordance with the CRS. The Australian Government has enacted legislation amending, among other things, the Taxation Administration Act 1953 of Australia to give effect to the CRS.

US TAX WITHHOLDING AND REPORTING UNDER THE FOREIGN ACCOUNT TAX COMPLIANCE ACT (FATCA)

The United States of America has introduced rules (known as FATCA) which are intended to prevent US persons from avoiding tax. Broadly, the rules may require the Fund to report certain information to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO), which may then pass the information on to the US Internal Revenue Service (IRS). If you do not provide this information, we will not be able to process your application.

In order to comply with these obligations, Perpetual will collect certain information about you and undertake certain due diligence procedures to verify your FATCA status and provide information to the ATO in relation to your financial information required by the ATO (if any) in respect of any investment in the Fund.

8. HOW TO APPLY

There is no additional information in this section. Refer to Section 8 'How to apply' of the PDS.
